

From: MTC info [mailto:info@mtc.ca.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, December 08, 2004 10:54 AM
Subject: Transportation 2030 Survey: You Make the Call!

Here's your chance to step into the shoes of a transportation policymaker and take the Transportation 2030 Web Survey. Log on to www.mtc.ca.gov/T2030 and voice your priorities for the San Francisco Bay Area's transportation future.

Would you*

- * allow solo drivers to pay a toll to travel in underused carpool lanes - with the toll revenues going toward completion of the carpool-lane network?
- * require localities to cluster homes and businesses by public transit stations in order to qualify for regional transit expansion funds?
- * streamline the region's two-dozen-plus public transit operators to improve customer service and reduce costs?

The Draft Transportation 2030 Plan lists five dozen potential policy and funding ideas for ensuring mobility in the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area over the next 25 years. Visit www.mtc.ca.gov/T2030 by January 7, 2005, and choose the ideas that make the most sense to you.

The future of the Bay Area depends on the choices we make today.

MTC Public Information