Dear RTC Commissioners ~

We write to offer our appreciation for the work of your Executive Director and her staff.

Recently we've witnessed a new campaign disparaging Director Sarah Christensen's abilities and competency with a flurry of letters to local new media by those who do not understand the chain of command from the RTC to its Executive Director.

As an example, one letter stated that Sarah "works for the community," that her job is "to implement the voters' vision," that the letter writer expects "the elected commissioners to hold" her "accountable."

We have followed RTC meetings for several years and have observed Director Christensen's performance of the job of Executive Director per its job description (as found online) in a professional, competent manner.

As far as we can tell, when Commissioners vote to direct Christensen to do something, she does as directed in the best way possible to provide the service the RTC expects of her and her staff.

Sincerely,
Jean Brocklebank
